Happy New Year!

It seems strange to start a new year even though we are although in the middle of so many projects. AIM and Concertos are coming to a head here in February. There are a couple of composition competitions available this spring for those who are interested and plenty of performance opportunities.

We can use the new year as a chance to renew our commitment to practice a little more consistently - maybe five times a week instead of four or perhaps 40 minutes a day instead of 30. Whatever. Small changes add up over time. We don't have to have big changes that inconvenience our lives and make it difficult to keep our goals. Small changes will still help us be successful and we are more likely to be to commit to small changes in our lives than huge ones. Good luck.

Group Classes

This is a reminder that group classes take the place of regular lessons the week of January 16 - 20th. We will be focusing on Music History and also playing for each other as always. See the sidebar of this newsletter for a schedule or the website.
